

All About Gertrude Bell

Introduction

Did you know Gertrude Bell spoke Arabic, Persian, French, German, Italian, Turkish and English. In this report you will find out what Gertrude Bell's grandfather was. If you want to know what his grandfather was, read more.

Gertrude Bell needed to sleep at a tent in a desert.

Where she went

Would you believe she adventured all around the world! She went to Europe, Asia, across the Arabian Desert. Some of the countries that she visited were Syria, Turkey.

What was it like to be an explorer

A few explorers were homesick. Most days they needed to be in the sea for 2 years. A few days a ship was attacked by a pirate. Being an explorer was also great. Because they could explore new things, places also went somewhere that people never go before. They had to eat the same food every day in those years; there were no toilets.

Early life

Did you know she was born on the 14th of July in 1868. And her grandfather was a prime minister. Also she was born in England.

Why she became an explorer

Because she wanted to write reports about countries. Also she likes to learn about the history of people.
